

Centennial Tires for Off-road and Highway Use Now In Stock

Anaheim, Calif. – November 9, 2016 – Centennial Tires, a division of Greenball Corporation, is now stocking its lineup of tire models for trucks, SUVs, Jeeps and other vehicles with off-road capabilities. Centennial Tires will provide affordable solutions for optimum traction and control in both highway and off-road driving. All sizes are now in stock, visit www.CentennialTires.com for more details.

“Every consumer has different needs when it comes to tires, and it’s our job to provide solutions,” said Randy Tsai of Greenball. “Following the success of our Kanati Tires light truck program, we saw an opportunity with the Centennial brand to offer quality light truck tires at a competitive price point.”

Centennial Tires offers a diverse lineup of durable tire models, but each one will have two prominent features: an aggressive, capable design for various off-road terrain and adverse weather conditions, and a price point that makes Centennial Tires an economical choice for light truck and off-road enthusiasts. Customers will have a wide variety of LT and p-metric sizes and applications to best fit their needs.

Terra Commander A/T (P-Metric Sizes)

An ideal replacement tire for older light truck and SUV models, the Terra Commander A/T in P-Metric sizing is mountain snowflake rated and can be fitted with #13 winter studs for traction and braking power in extreme snowy and icy conditions.

Terra Commander A/T (LT Sizes)

With a versatile tread pattern and high load capacity, the Terra Commander A/T in LT sizes offers a heavy duty 10-ply rated construction and is mountain snowflake rated for winter use.

Terra Trooper A/T

Built for longevity and designed to provide a smooth and quiet ride on the highway, the Terra Trooper A/T is ideal for drivers who spend the majority of their time on paved roads, but who also enjoy some light off-roading.

Terra Commander M/T

The most aggressive of the Centennial lineup, the Terra Commander M/T features large tread lugs and high void ratios to ensure maximum traction in any and all off-road conditions.

Dirt Commander M/T

The aggressive tread pattern on the Centennial Dirt Commander M/T was designed to provide excellent traction and durability in various terrain and weather conditions while also providing a comfortable highway ride.

All sizes of current models are now in stock and available through Centennial dealers. To learn more about Centennial Tires current line of products, and to find a dealer in your area visit www.CentennialTires.com. Learn more about Greenball Corporation and its diverse lineup of tires for all purposes at www.Greenball.com.

About Centennial Tires:

From deep mud to slushy snow, dusty deserts to endless highway, Centennial has a tire to fit your lifestyle -- without breaking the bank. Established in 2016, Centennial Tires is the newest addition to the Greenball family of tire brands that includes some of the best-selling products in the specialty tire market. So no matter where you want to go, you can trust in Centennial Tires to get you there. Visit www.centennialtires.com for more information.

Acorn Woods Communications

Ron Benfield
2120 Main Street, Suite 130
Huntington Beach, CA 92648
Office: (714) 960-5500
ron@acorn-woods.com
www.acorn-woods.com

Centennial Tires

Kory Ellis
13310 Valley Blvd
Fontana, CA 92335
Office: (951) 361-0659 ext. 327
kellis@greenball.com
www.centennialtires.com